Second Harvest Food Bank of Northwest Pennsylvania Adds Produce Express Distribution in Warren County

Erie, Pa., July 16, 2020 – Second Harvest continues to expand its services to reach families in need of food within northwest Pennsylvania. On Thursday, July 30th, Second Harvest will host a new Produce Express Drive Thru Food Distribution at the Calvary Baptist church in Warren. This distribution will bring food for up to 140 pre-registered families who reside in Warren County.

“Map the Meal Gap statistics from Feeding America reveal that there are thousands of food insecure individuals in Warren County,” says Karen Seggi, Second Harvest CEO. “This new Produce Express distribution will help provide fresh, healthy produce to food insecure families who normally would not have access to it.”

Participation in the Produce Express is free. Second Harvest continues to encourage the community to eat healthier and make better nutritional choices. When available, Produce Express distributions also include other grocery items and non-food essentials. To pre- register please call (814) 459-3663 x 117 and leave a message stating you are interested in this distribution.
